In-Person Learning General Expectations: As we prepare to open fully to more students on Monday, April 19, Dr. McKinney would like to share with you once again a few general expectations, common across all schools.

Principals and assistant principals have been reaching out to families to confirm student-specific plans but, in the meantime, the general guidelines are linked below:

Youth in the Arts: Join with us again in celebrating art in our schools. We very much appreciate the welcome efforts of our art teachers to produce videos, featuring the creative work of our students. The videos present a wonderful compilation of student work in many disciplines.

Updated Boxed Lunch Pick-Up Schedule and Location: Food Service announces an updated schedule with lunch pick-up sites:

Revised Design: A redesigned version of the home page of the school district website will be launched later today at 4 pm.

Our goal was to make it easier for the user to access links and information. The primary change is with the multimedia gallery. The gallery has been minimized to allow users to access a menu of 12 "global icons" without scrolling down the page. The 12 icons are listed alphabetically:

- Calendar
- Contact
- Employment
- Lunch Menu
- Middle School Project
- Registration
- Return to School
- See Something, Say Something
- Strategic Plan
- Superintendent Messages
- Superintendent Search

MATHCOUNTS®

Elm Street Middle Student Places at MathCounts:

Congratulations to Vedant Patil for winning one of four top spots to advance to represent New Hampshire at the National MathCounts Meet in May, which will be held virtually.

Vedant is an eighth grader at Elm Street Middle School, and returns for the second consecutive year as a state finalist and national competitor. MathCounts is a prestigious math competition, with chapter, chapter invitational, state, and national rounds, which makes math and problem-solving fun. The national winner receives a $25,000 scholarship, sponsored by Raytheon. Best of luck, Vedant!
