Hip, Hip, Hooray for the 100th Day!

Your child has participated in many exciting activities so far in Kindergarten. Another special day is quickly approaching—the 100th day of school! If there are no snow days this winter, this fun-filled day will take place on Tuesday, February 6, 2024. If we do have any snow days this date will change, but I'll be sure to send you all any updates if needed. On this day in K, your child will be participating in a variety of activities that will reinforce the concept of 100! When we return from the Holiday Break, I will be sending home a "100th Day Project" packet in yellow folders which will describe this family project as well as provide some ideas for what you could do with your child! The kindergartners will be show and telling their projects with the class on the 100th Day, so be sure to have them ready in time! Once completed, projects may be sent into school for display.

A great big THANK YOU to all who contributed money for the gingerbread cookie project. The class had a 'sweet' time decorating these together for the holidays!
