About Me:

I have been working with children in various settings for over 20 years. I am the proud mom of 2 daughters and 1 son. In my freetime I enjoy reading, playing games, and taking long walks.

Make Today a Great Day!

My goal for fifth graders is to create a respectful community of responsible, lifelong learners who show up each day ready to learn. We have a lot of exciting and interesting things to learn in fifth grade. Every day we will spend time reading, writing, solving math problems, and learning more about our world in social studies and science. We will also be learning what it means to Choose Love.
